

The Kansas Cooperative Council is pleased to announce the winners of our annual Co-op Test awards. The 2010 Co-op Test Winners are:

KCC District 1 – Shelby Droody, Central Heights High School
KCC District 2 – Macee Kellner, Stockton High School
KCC District 4 – Adam Sobba, Anderson County High School

Central Heights High School had the highest eligible chapter average in the state (48.0). We would like to congratulate Trent Page, Central Heights advisor, for such outstanding results.

The district winners noted above are eligible for a trip to the National Institute on Cooperative Education (NICE) in Knoxville, TN, July 17 – 21.

NICE, a conference focused solely on youth education, will provide students the opportunity to meet cooperative leaders, educators, and other students from all over the United States. While learning the characteristics of the cooperative form of business, students are encouraged to develop an understanding of the issues facing cooperatives today, explore career possibilities, and participate in activities designed to develop their leadership skills.
