Courtenay DeHoff is an accomplished television personality whose witty and charming antics have landed her on network television in the nation’s top markets. Her small-town girl turned big-city personality have grabbed the attention of Deadspin, Yahoo!, The Huffington Post, LIVE with Kelly and more.

DeHoff is a self-proclaimed cowgirl. She grew up in the heart of America on a cattle ranch in Kansas and she uses her unique background to set her apart in the entertainment industry. She is currently a host on The CW’s nationally syndicated television show “Morning Dose”.

In 2016, DeHoff was named a top 10 finalist in the “LIVE with Kelly” guest co-star search with Kelly Ripa! She was selected among thousands of entries, thanks to her audition tape which featured a tongue-in-cheek take on her rural lifestyle.

She loves educating the public about Rural America and what it means to be a cowgirl. As a rancher and professional rodeo athlete, she strives to never lose sight of where she came from. No matter what city she is working in, she remains true to her country roots.
